My dear F. Hill,
I am delighted to see from your letter that Mrs.
Hill & yourself
were so near the Land of her Forefathers,

trust to hear from Helen that you had reached Lipove
in safety.

I beg to tender
you not only my grateful Thanks, but
of all of us
for your very

Prompt kindness to Andrew in his Hour of Need,
and of which he writes by today's Mail.

Capt H. J. Cathcart Andrew's eldest brother is in Scotland just now, but I have written to him
about

the £30, when you expect he will his arrangements
about settling it
as soon as he possibly can,
and which I have heard about for some days.
Be so good
write me
from Atherstone
