

8, Hancock St,
Boston,
November 27th

My dear Dr Hill,

Your
welcome letter came this morning. Yesterday I received a letter from Dr Divison, and immediately replied, inviting you and Mrs Hill to come directly to my house, number eight (8) Hancock Street.

I can give you a large
room, on the second floor,
with modern conveniences,
and shall do all in my power to make you
comfortable.

Last evening I saw Dr Huntington, and we have made all the arrangements for Sunday.

My idea is, that we can get some of our rich people to open their parlors for social conferences, by the aid of Mrs Hill.

However we may, I always listen when you come.

Please let me know
when to expect you.

Truly and affectionately

James A. Wollen

Rev Dr Hill.