Dear Dr Hill.

I reached home last night to be greeted with the delightful news of your arrival. This morning early I came down to see you, but was detained until this afternoon.

We have just had such a treat opening the Bibles & examining the beautiful beautiful beautiful articles from Dear precious Mrs Hill. I hoped you would return, and come in to see our delight as one after another of the gems was exposed to view. I shall see you as soon as possible. Can you imagine our delight at seeing you once more?
