Dear Dr Hill,

As Grandma does not feel very well she has commissioned me to tell you how very happy we will all be to see you.

I was so delighted when I heard of your return to this country as when you left it you gave us no hopes of such a pleasure, I only wish I dear Mrs Hill was with you.

interesting one, so many eminent men have come from different parts of the country to attend it.

Looking forward with much pleasure, dear Doctor, to your anticipated visit, and with kind remembrances from all.

I remain

John I know will regret extremely having lost this opportunity of seeing you.

He has found his trip rather a rough one but full of novel sights and experiences, and writes that he would not have missed it for anything. His letters are quite interesting.

My aunt, Mrs. Clarkson, paid us a visit a short time ago, but is now in New York.

Papa is at home at present but contemplates a visit to California.

This coming convention will I suppose be an extremely
