

Syra April 24, 1856

My dear Brother Hile,

Thanks for kind lines. I take notice of what you say respecting the Lammachians and Jane's returning to us - It would give me the greatest pleasure of sailing myself to Athens and bringing her back to Syra but it is not in my power of doing it. There are various things hindering me to leave Syra at present. I contemplated first of sending Fritz, but as Mr. Kloeber is going on Sunday next and suburbs of recovery on Wednesday following I think we might well suspend the business, I think that neither you nor Mr. M. nor Miss B. will have any objection to that. I hope that she will make a good examination though that she seems herself to fear that this will scarcely be the case. We are all in the enjoyment of health and go on as usually in our work.

Pardon that I write
so little but the moments I have for writing are few - We all send love
to you all
Yrs
faithfully
A. A. Wildner
