Mitsolonghi 25th Oct 1863.

My dear Mr. Hill

You are all I suppose by this time enjoying the fine doings for the arrival of H.M.
King George, Long life to him whilst some stupid people here are busy getting up an Agothangelistic cry once more, I am sorry to see ^{many} ~~the~~ Greeks behaving so ill just on the eve of the King's arrival, because mind ye all this ^{is} in consequence

Syra 4th November 1863.

My dear Dr. Hill,

Mr. Scarlett having written to Mr. Lloyd for another copy of the translation of our thanks giving, I find myself in the necessity of requesting you to return me the copy I sent, ^{you,} that I may give it to Cairnie to recopy it in a good hand and on good paper.

If I were sure, I could

If the number of electors be restricted, both local and general Government will be based on the appraisal of the people and not of the mob or the King alone. Until now we had mob-laws; hence forth, if we go ^{to} the other extremity, we shall throw the King to the mercy of France and Russia, which know how to govern de-spotically. But such matters must not be treated so cursorily. Very sincerely Yours
Hassimati

I had hoped to have been able to take a run up to see you all, but the continued disturbed state of the whole of Etolia & Acarnania did not conscientiously allow me to ask for leave, a few months ago I might have done so, as all was quiet then now it is otherwise unfortunately, but you know then it was refused.

Pray send me a budget of news of beyond seas (Grecian I mean) as I am ignorant of what the whole world is about. Present our united compliments to Mrs Hill & all your household & believe me ever

Yours truly
